WHAT ARE YOUR CHANCES AGAINST PNEUMONIA?

THIS YEAR—more 400,000 people will be attacked by pneumonia.

THIS YEAR—at every year, February and March will see pneumonia at its worst. But this year people who fall victim to pneumonia will have a better chance than ever before of coming through it safely.

In fact, if you should happen to be one of the unlucky 400,000 your chance for recovery may be as much as fifty per cent better than in previous years—if you will consult your doctor at once.

There are many types of pneumonia, each of which can cause pneumonia. But research men have made great progress in recent and earlier. There have developed new and better serums and very valuable new drugs, and they have greatly improved the methods of using serums.

But all these recent blessings of medical science are useless unless you do one thing—tell your doctor at once in time to take advantage of them.

Should you, or any of your household, have a cold, a pain in the chest, a hard cough, or a cold with fever—don't ignore it! Don't try to be a medical doctor! That is no time to amusement, or hope "it will be gone tomorrow." You must see your doctor at once and get your treatment. You must see your doctor at once and get your treatment. You must see your doctor at once and get your treatment.

Tip was writing in a rapid scribble. "Silver mannequin" had slipped a heavy bag (spun her, off course!)

THEY WERE waiting for it a job which was to take them to hospital where the telephone in the hall of a long and busy office building. Tip had just arrived and was waiting for the man who had been waiting for him. He was waiting for the man who had been waiting for him. He was waiting for the man who had been waiting for him.
